Joseph H. Defrees, president of th Joseph H. Defrees, president of the chamber, in his opening speech declared that all sincere Americans should cooperate to bring about a return to normal social and Industrial conditions. Strikes and lockouts, he said, have resome way should be found to eliminate them. All agencies should work vig-orously, he said, to build up our for-eign trade and more firmly to establish the American merchant marine. He denied that the organization is con ducting a drive against labor unions i

H. T. Watkins, president of the Penn-sylvania Coal and Coke Company, said the price of coal cannot be reduced until the wages of miners are reduced. Responsibility for lower coal prices he laid to the United Mine Workers alone, as the operators have "generally reduced their prices to very narrow margins, in many cases below the cost of production."

bonorably refuse to carry them out," said Mr. Watkins, "but they can ask for discussion and modification of the con-tract. My particular criticism of or-ganized labor to-day is that it has fallen into the hands of radicals. The activities of Howat, the Kansas radical, are but mildly condemned by the na-tional organization. Nobody seems to be reliably informed on the amount of Bolshevist funds distributed in this coun-try to carry out the vicious propaganda of the miners."

NEW CONCERN HAS PLAN TO HELP HOMESEEKERS

469.38 The American Housing Corporation, of 2.612.82 Bank of this city, is president an ounced yesterday that it has devised a plan to relieve the housing shortage by 576.65 $2,000.000 organization to convert their stock investment into a home which the permitting the shareholders in the 25,000,000 organization to convert their stock investment into a home which the corporation will build or remodel according to the deafre of the shareholder. The corporation states that it will not enter into any land development schemes or ensage in real estate speculation.

Briefly, the plan is as follows: The corporation will buy a building lot or plot for any shareholder when that person has bought and fully paid for preferred stock of a par value equal to or greater than 25 per cent. of the value of the lot or lots, and it will take a first mortgage on the property for the remaining 75 per cent. of value.

The company will then construct a house according to the desire of the purchaser when the purchaser has paid for preferred stock of a par value equal to or greater than 25 per cent. of the total cost of the lot and the house to the corporation. The corporation will furnish a permanent construction loan of approximately 60 per cent. of the total cost of the house and lot, and will accept a second mortgage for the balance ept a second mortgage for the balance still umpaid, bearing interest at 6 per cent., which the purchaser may pay off in equal monthly instalments.
